

Disque

Design by Peter van de Water

Designed to move you

Playful, stylish, inviting, that's Disque, the latest furniture system from Cascando. Created especially for offices, lounges and collaborative spaces, Disque offers a versatile range of high and low furniture elements for informal meetings, short working moments, or simply taking a break to relax.

The clear geometry of circles and ovals brings a sense of unity, and turns every composition into an inviting whole. Benches, bar stools, and poufs encourage active and varied seating, while tables in different heights invite flexible and social ways of working.

Disque. Work, meet, and relax in style.
